

The author is a professor emeritus of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. He has been a professor of Internal Medicine and Diabetologia and a head of Department of Propaedeutic Medicine in AHEPA teaching hospital of Thessaloniki.

He has been studying modern Greek history for many years.

He published 12 books, two volumes of them on the modern Greek history. The present book is focused on the years 1941-1949 that were full of fights against invaders, the national resistance and the three rounds of a bloody civil war. This book was written mainly for Greek diaspora but also for anyone who is interested in Greek history.

A brief history of Greece 1941-1949

Dimitrios T. Karamitsos

Dimitrios T. Karamitsos

A brief history of Greece 1941-1949

